The Basics

Getting Ashore

Ships dock at the A.C. Wathey Cruise Pier in Philipsburg. Taxis and water taxis are on hand to take guests to the center of town.

Fast Fact

The 37-square-mile island of St. Maarten/St. Martin is the smallest landmass in the world governed by 2 nations.

Port Shopping

The best shopping is located along Front Street in Philipsburg, the capital of Dutch St. Maarten.

FUN FACT The island of St. Maarten/St. Martin is the world's smallest landmass governed by two nations: the Netherlands and France.

The Friendly Island

TWO COUNTRIES, ONE ISLAND: St. Maarten and St. Martin offer the world a lesson in sharing. With the lively Dutch Sint Maarten to the south, the laid-back French Saint Martin to the north, and no marked border in between, visiting the Friendly Island is like getting a two-for-one deal. With dozens of beaches, excellent duty-free shops, countless land and water activities, and abundant world-class dining options, this tiny island is one of the leading destinations in the Caribbean.

STOP BY THE GUAVABERRY EMPORIUM on Front Street to sample St. Maarten's national beverage: guavaberry liqueur. And be sure to stroll down Old Street, a tiny pedestrian-only promenade located between Front and Back Streets. It's home to colorful shops and open-air cafés with a yellow taxicab parked on the alley marking the shopping district. The streets are lined with gingerbread-style homes with grand verandas overlooking the cobblestoned paths. These excellent examples of traditional West Indian architecture make picture-perfect backdrops for vacation photos. This is also a great area for picking up a souvenir or two for friends and family back home. Locals are friendly and gladly help with any questions you may have.
