NOTICES

Safety and Security- For Safety and well-being of all persons onboard, some members of our Security Team will be wearing Body Camera as a part of their uniforms.

Information - Animal foods such as beef, eggs, lamb, milk, pork, poultry or seafood that are raw or undercooked significantly increase the risk of food-borne illness to vulnerable and immunodeficient guests.

Helpful Health Information: Medical experts tell us that the best way to prevent colds, flu, or gastrointestinal illnesses - such as a Norovirus that can be transferred easily through person-to-person contact - is to simply wash your hands thoroughly with soap and warm water after restroom breaks and again before eating anything. Symptoms of Noroviruses include an upset stomach, vomiting and diarrhea. According to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Noroviruses affect 25 million Americans on land each year. In fact, the only illness that is more prevalent is the common cold. Should you experience any gastrointestinal illness, please visit the ship's medical facility for a consultation and treatment if necessary.

Health Advisory: -CDC has issued a travel alert (Level 2-Practice Enhanced Precautions) regarding Zika virus transmission for people traveling throughout the Caribbean, Central / South America, Mexico, Oceania / So. Pacific Islands, Southeast Asia and Cape Verde, Africa. CDC also identified two areas in Miami (Wynwood, and a section of South Miami Beach) where Zika is being spread by mosquitoes. Pregnant women should not travel to those areas. Zika virus is spread primarily through the bite of an infected mosquito, which bites in the day and night, and lives both indoors and outdoors. Other modes of spread, including sexual transmission, have been reported. As additional areas of concern may be identified by CDC in the future, guests are encouraged to check the CDC website for the latest information at <http://www.cdc.gov/zika/intheus/florida-update.html>. Only 20% of people infected with Zika virus show symptoms which most commonly include fever, headache, skin rash, joint pain and conjunctivitis (red eyes). The illness is usually mild with symptoms lasting from 2-7 days. Although serious complications and deaths are uncommon, recent increases in birth defects and neurological syndromes are being reported in areas where Zika virus outbreaks have occurred. The CDC travel health advisory particularly impacts women who are pregnant (in any trimester) and women who are trying to become pregnant. Travelers can protect themselves by preventing mosquito bites and taking precautions including using insect repellents, wearing clothing which covers exposed skin and adopting safe sex practices. Pregnant women in any trimester should consider postponing travel to areas where Zika virus transmission is ongoing. Pregnant women who must travel to one of these areas should talk to their doctor or other healthcare provider first and strictly follow steps to avoid mosquito bites during the trip. Women trying to become pregnant who are thinking about becoming pregnant should consult with their healthcare provider before traveling to these areas and strictly follow steps to prevent mosquito bites during the trip. Mosquito repellent is available in the ship's gift shop or medical facility
